

Realized hard halting of attractor inference

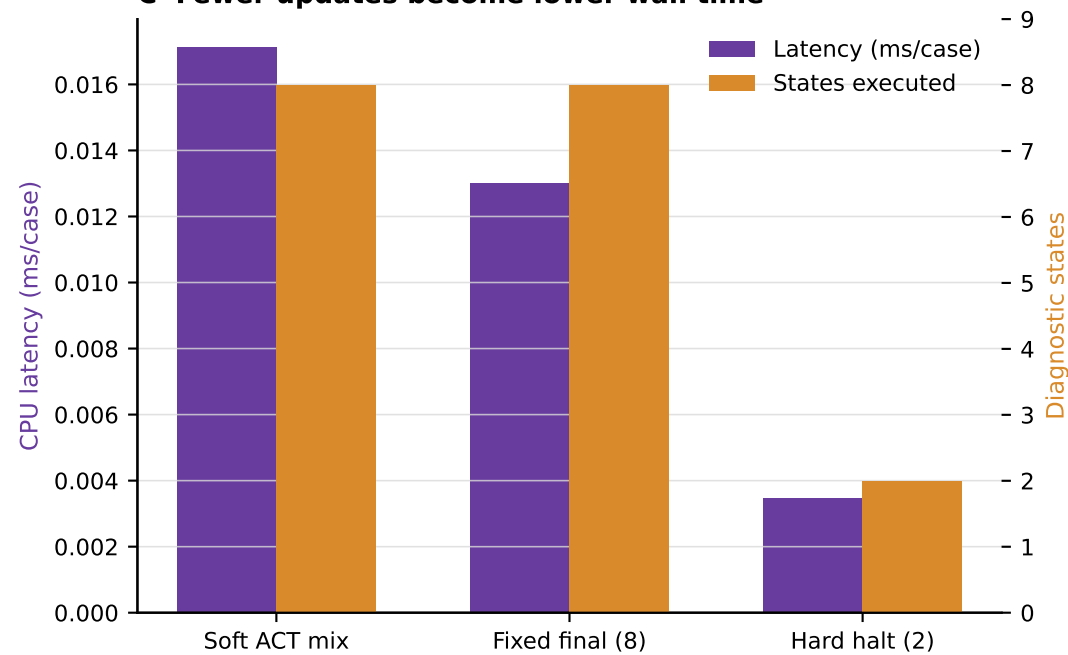

A Validation selects the two-state boundary

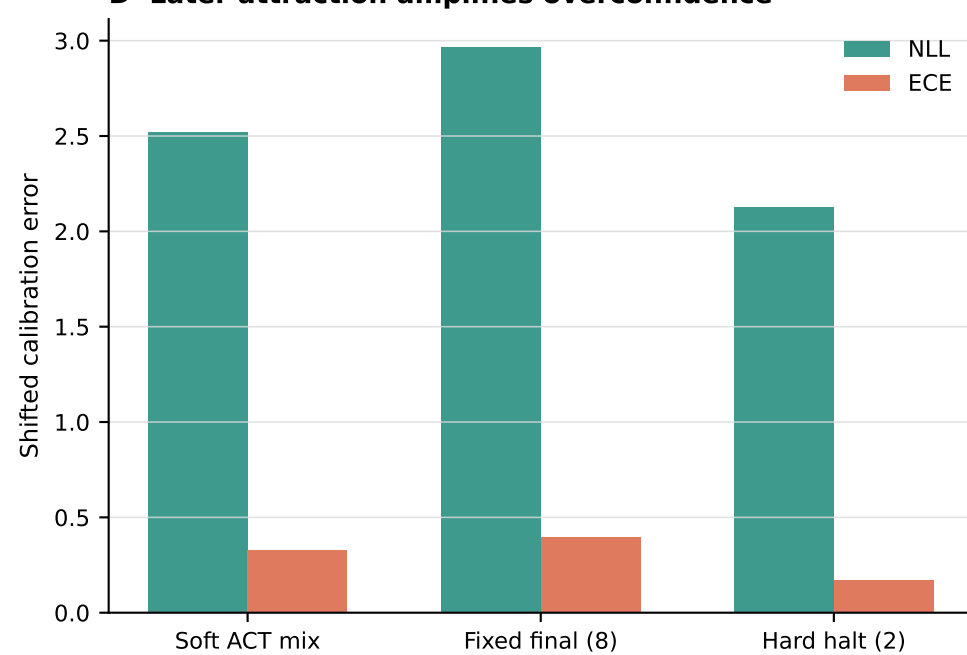

B Early truncation preserves accuracy

C Fewer updates become lower wall time

D Later attraction amplifies overconfidence

Thresholds selected on source validation only; three checkpoint seeds. Source: QN-000023. All cases halt at step 2, so the result is truncation—not case adaptivity.